CZECH PROBLEM REMAINS UNSOLVED

Mr. Chamberlain To Consult Cabinet And France

TALK WITH HERR HITLER TO BE RESUMED AT GODESBURG

M. DALADIER TO BE PRESENT THIS TIME

Geneva, September 16.
IT IS BELIEVED here that Herr Hitler has made counter-proposals to Mr. Neville Chamberlain of such importance that the British Prime Minister is returning to London not only to consult the Cabinet but also the French Government.

M. Daladier and M. Bonnet, it is believed, will leave the French capital for London tomorrow and it is likely that they will stay over the week-end. In the meantime a hopeful view of the situation is taken here.

FROM PARIS IT is stated that the French are refraining from drawing any definite conclusions from the swift ending of the Berchtesgaden talks. It is generally expected that there will be a personal exchange of views between Mr. Chamberlain and M. Daladier but this will, of necessity, depend on the former's time table for the next few days.

Meanwhile a Berlin report states that Mr. Chamberlain will probably resume his talk with Herr Hitler at Godesburg on Tuesday and that M. Daladier will take part in this meeting.—Reuter.

FUEHRER EXPLAINS SITUATION

London, September 16.
The special correspondent of the Daily Mail, Ward Price, declares in a report from Berchtesgaden that he received from absolutely reliable quarters, detailed information regarding the conversation between Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler.

The Fuehrer began the conversation with an exhaustive statement on the Sudeten-German question which followed closely on the lines of his Nuremberg declaration. It is declared that the Fuehrer was able to inform Mr. Chamberlain of certain facts which were hitherto unknown to the latter.

The Fuehrer emphasised the imperative necessity of achieving a radical solution of the Sudeten-German problem at the earliest possible moment, and he then roughly outlined his ideas as to how a settlement could be effected.

Mr. Chamberlain, so Ward Price declares, returned to London in order to inform the Cabinet of the Fuehrer's views in order that the Cabinet might examine the suggestions.

Ward Price reports that it was definitely decided to hold a second meeting next week and adds that according to well-informed political quarters the Reich Government will address a Note to the Prague Government warning the latter that Czech nationals in Germany will be seized as hostages if the attacks on Sudeten-Germans continue.

Ward Price claims to have been informed by persons close to the Fuehrer that Herr Hitler expressed his satisfaction with the outcome of the conversation and that he characterised Mr. Chamberlain as a straight forward statesman with whom it was not difficult to negotiate.—Transocean.

CLEAR CUT DEMANDS

London, Sept. 16.
News that after a comparatively short talk Mr. Chamberlain is flying back to England today to consult the Cabinet will cause a serious perplexity, declares the News Chronicle.

It has clearly been impossible in so short a time for any real understanding to develop between two men on whom so much depends, and the early return suggests that Herr Hitler has presented Mr. Chamberlain with clear cut demands which are beyond anything that has been envisaged by the British Cabinet. We hope this interpretation is an unduly pessimistic one and that Mr. Chamberlain will be able to report more favourable news.—Reuter.

HERR HITLER, WHY PLEASE?

Hankow, Sept. 16.
Herr Hitler's defence of the people's right to self-determination was vigorously denounced by the influential "Ta Kung Pao" this morning which sees the Reich's Fuehrer's action only as a pretext for the annexation of a weaker nation.

The newspaper points out that there are many Germans in America and asks why Hitler does not press the right of determination for Germans in America. The journal further asks why Germany recognises Manchukuo when Manchukuo is "Chinese territory and the population entirely Chinese."

The "Ta Kung Pao" is not too optimistic about the outcome of the interview between Mr. Chamberlain and Herr Hitler. Even if Britain and Germany should reach an agreement regarding a formula to solve the Czech crisis, it asserts that such a formula might be unacceptable to Prague which, with support from France and Russia might defy Germany.—Reuter.

NEXT MEETING WILL BE DECISIVE

Berchtesgaden, Sept. 16.
Mr. Chamberlain has left here for Munich.

It is believed the next meeting with Herr Hitler will take place at Keesburg, favourite summer resort of the Fuehrer, near Cologne, though it is now not expected sooner than early next week.

While German circles are not optimistic about the situation, the general feeling among observers of all nationalities is that next week's meeting will be decisive, one way or another.—Reuter.

BOXER FUND STUDENTS

Bound For England

Twenty students, graduates of various Universities throughout China, will leave Hong Kong today on board the "P" and "O" Chitral, as the sixth batch of Fellowship Students to be sent to England to further their studies under British Boxer Indemnity Fund.

The party, which was chosen from 350 selected from examinations held in Hong Kong, Shanghai, Chungking, Kunming and Wuchang, will be in charge of Mr. Yeh Kung-cho. Their courses vary from applied optics and animal husbandry to hydrobiology and education. Their term of post-graduate study is for three years, but it may be extended to four, with the approval of the Board of Trustees administering Funds of the Boxer Indemnity (British Return).

The Chairman of this Board is Sir Robert Calder-Marshall, the Vice-President Dr. Chu Chia-hua. The Vice-Chancellor of the University of Hong Kong, Mr. D. J. Stess, and Mr. H. V. Wilkinson, of the P. and O., are also members. Others are Mr. T. L. Soong, Dr. Yen and Dr. Liu.

A tea-party was given to the departing students by the members of the Board who are in Hong Kong in the Jacobean Room of the Hong Kong Hotel yesterday afternoon, while at night they were guests at a dinner given by the Hong Kong University Union in the Assembly Room of the University.

What Now, Japan?

POSER BY SHANGHAI NEWSPAPER

Shanghai Sept. 16.
The "Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury," an American daily, in an editorial today, says that if there is such solicitude from Japan on behalf of the oppressed minority in far off Czechoslovakia, perhaps there is some chance that something may be done in the territory under Japanese control where there is an oppressed majority.

"If Japan keenly sympathises with the three million Sudeten-Germans and feels that they should have the benefit of a plebiscite, to express their feelings (as the result of which they may achieve self-determination and be independent of the yoke of another race) it may be logically assumed that official Japanese sentiment is veering in the direction of equal sympathy toward the idea of a plebiscite for the benefit of 30,000, 000 oppressed Chinese in Manchukuo."

The leader adds sarcastically that that need not end the matter of Koreans in Korea and Formosans in Formosa, and that a considerable number of Chinese in China might like to make clear that they do not care for domination by others.—Reuter.

SEVERE BATTLE RAGES NEAR TEHAN

Japanese Launch Repeated Assaults On Defenders

Hankow, September 16.
Severe fighting is raging on the road between Singta and Tehan as the Japanese make a determined drive towards Tehan, according to Chinese reports.

The intensity of the battle is indicated by the Chinese communiqué saying that two thousand Chinese soldiers fell at Singta during the three days when the Japanese made sixteen assaults.

Chinese forces are holding their position west of Yalkou. From Shanghai a message states that by air, water and land the Japanese launched an attack at dawn today on Wusueh, according to unofficial dispatches.

Blue jackets claimed to have landed at a point a mile-and-a-quarter downstream as a signal for the assault, naval guns opening a barrage while field guns from Matouchen fired across the river as bombers rained missiles on the Chinese forts.

Near the western shore of Poyang Lake the Japanese declared they were closing in around Yalkou.—Reuter.

CHINESE LEAVE TANTSI

Costly Victory For Invaders

Hwaying, Sept. 16.
After a gallant stand during which all their defence works were levelled to the ground, Chinese defenders of Tantsi, a small town thirty kilometres east of Hsuehchow and south of the Lunghai railway, abandoned the place after five hours' grim struggle on September 12.

Immediately after the abandonment of Tantsi, the Chinese forces took up a new line to the south of the town, where the Japanese have been effectively checked.

The Japanese suffered heavy casualties in taking Tantsi when the Chinese stubbornly resisted until their positions were no longer tenable. Throughout the five hours' fighting, the Japanese resorted to the use of heavy guns in shattering the Chinese defences.

The Japanese opened their assault on Tantsi on the night of September 11, from Paltai and Tansukia and did not succeed in capturing the town until early the following morning. Despite the fall of Tantsi, little changes are noted in the positions of the opposing forces south of Hsuehchow.—Central News.

2 MAIL PLANES DUE TODAY

Due to a delay on the main line from London to Bangkok the Imperial Airways plane which was due here yesterday afternoon will not arrive until noon today.

The R.M.A. "Delphinus," piloted by Mr. S. Hoare, leaves Bangkok this morning and is due at Kai Tak about 5 p.m. today.

SPECIAL MAIL
A special air mail additional to normal services to London and Sydney by Imperial Airways will be leaving Hong Kong on Sunday. Ordinary mail will close at noon on Sunday and registered mail at 5 p.m. on Saturday. The mail is due in London on September 28 and in Sydney on September 24.

STOP PRESS

Berlin, Sept. 16.
German official quarters say the situation is slightly easier following the Chamberlain-Hitler talks. A slight optimism is noticeable, this being attributed to the conviction that the democracies will substantially agree with Hitler's demands.

A Foreign Office spokesman interviewed by Reuter said the "Fuehrer" very likely made it clear to Mr. Chamberlain that only the will of the people concerned can now decide the Sudeten issue. It is considered "unthinkable" at the Foreign Office that Mr. Chamberlain is not persuaded by the justice of Hitler's demands.—Reuter.

Prague, Sept. 16.
All inhabitants of the Sudeten German areas have been ordered to surrender their arms to the authorities within twenty-four hours. Heavy penalties are provided for non-compliance with the regulation.—Reuter.

Sir Robert, Lady Ho Tung Honoured By Agricultural Association

Presentation Of Shield Made At Tea Party

DISTINGUISHED GATHERING

Speaking at a tea party given by the New Territories Agricultural Association in honour of Lady Ho Tung at "Idlewild," 8, Seymour Road, yesterday afternoon, the Rev. H. R. Wells, Chairman of the Association, remarked that Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung's interest in the New Territories had been manifest for nearly 40 years. Since the first agricultural show, Sir Robert had helped the Association year by year in many ways.

A presentation of a shield, suitably inscribed, was made to Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung from the Association to show its sincere gratitude.

Mr. Tang Wei-tong, a member of the Committee, speaking in Chinese before a large and distinguished gathering, said that now that the Association's building in the New Territories was completed and they were opening the institute for students, they still look to Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung for advice and assistance, so that the people of the New Territories may have instruction in farming and that the future of agriculture in the New Territories may be bright.

acted as Chairman of the Economic Resource Committee, and in connection with that had already been able to show much of what you had done to advance new products in the Territories.

Your report was approved, and you received the official thanks of Sir Reginald Stubbs. You may jointly be called the father and mother of agricultural progress in the New Territories.

MORE TANKS FOR NETHERLANDS

The Hague, Sept. 16.
Major Tere, Commander of the Netherlands East Indies Motorised Corps at Bandoeng, is leaving for England with rush orders for a large number of tanks.

The decision to purchase arises out of the increasing speed with which the mechanisation of Armies in the Netherlands and Netherlands East Indies is being carried out.—(Reuter).

REV. H.R. WELLS

Addressing the gathering, Rev. H. R. Wells said:—

We are very glad of the opportunity of being present here today because we have greatly desired to express our gratitude to Lady Ho Tung and yourself.

Your interest in the New Territories has been manifest for nearly 40 years. You were the first Chinese resident to buy land for cultivation, and in 1900 you, Sir Robert,

CHRISTIAN SERVICE LESSON SERMON

SUBJECT: MATTER

The subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science churches tomorrow, September 18 will be "Matter."

The Golden Text is "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand forever." (Isa. 40:8).
Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible, "Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem. The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things and for thy pleasure they are and were created." (Isa. 52:9, 10. Rev. 4:11).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy "When the substance of Spirit appears in Christian Science, the nothingness of matter will be recognised. The seasons will come and go with changes of time and tide, cold and heat, latitude and longitude. The agriculturist will find that these changes cannot affect his crops. The mariner will have dominion over the atmosphere and the great deep, over the fish of the sea and the fowls of the air. The astronomer will no longer look up to the stars—he will look out from them upon the universe; and the florist will find his flower before its seed. Thus matter will finally be proved nothing more than a mortal belief, wholly inadequate to affect a man through its supposed organic action or supposed existence. Matter disappears under the microscope of Spirit." (Pages 479, 125, 264).

Get rid of Disfiguring
Blemishes
this
Easy Way

Nothing can be more distracting to a woman than ugly pimples, burning irritations or patches of blackheads or enlarged pores on the face or neck. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them; whilst others cause the skin to become muddy-looking, coarse and blemished by using the wrong treatment.

To make your skin clear and healthy, to cleanse clogged facial pores, remove blackheads and pimples and to make your complexion clearer and smoother, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores and ugly complexion defects.

To rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations, use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

THE SERVICES

ROYAL NAVY

HOME FLEET CRUISE
The ships of the Home Fleet left their home ports on September 7— with the exception of those still refitting and of H.M.S. Southampton, flagship of the 2nd Cruiser Squadron, which left Chatham next day—for the usual autumn exercise cruise in the North Sea. Exercises will be carried out on the passage north. The destroyers and submarines are due at Rosyth, the remainder of the Fleet at Invergordon.

The vessels of the Fleet Target Service will also be at Invergordon, and the Fleet will be engaged on gunnery practices for some weeks.

AIR OBSERVERS' COURSE
The names of seven lieutenants and two sub-lieutenants who will undergo the next course for Air Observers, beginning on October 17, have been published in Fleet Orders. The course will also be attended by certain officers of the (A) Branch, who have not yet been selected.

AWARDS TO INVENTORS
The Committee of the Lott Trust Fund, which was established in order to provide rewards to officers and men of the Navy who produce inventions which enhance the fighting efficiency of the Fleet, announces a supplementary award of £20 to Petty Officer Telegraphist S. R. Cook for an invention concerning radio aerials.

SUBMARINE CRUISE TO THE CAPE

According to a report received from Capetown, the submarine Thames, Lieutenant-Commander J. G. Gould, has left Malta for a cruise round Africa. She will probably arrive at Simonstown on October 10, and is due to return to Malta on December 21.

COMMANDER FOR THE BERWICK

Commander C. B. Tidd, who has served at the Admiralty for two years with the Directors of the Naval Air Division and of Air Personnel, joined H.M.S. Berwick at Chatham on Sept. 7. This Cruiser has been in dockyard hands for over a year undergoing large repairs at a cost of about £840,000, and when ready for service again about the end of the year, will relieve the Apollo in the America and West Indies Station.

NOTES FROM INDIA

It has been decided that British officers, nurses, and British other ranks serving on the Indian Establishment, while on leave in countries outside India, shall be entitled to medical treatment under the same conditions as are applicable to British Army ranks in the countries concerned.

Sanction has been given to the appointment of Special List quartermasters for the armoured car regiments now in course of formation.

As a provisional measure, and until further orders, semi-continuous service officers of the R.A., R.E., and Royal Signals will, while on leave out of India at home or elsewhere, and entitled to higher rates of furlough pay, receive the revised British rates of pay plus the existing rates of Indian element of higher furlough pay.

ADMITTED WATERING SERGEANTS' BEER

Sergt. Charles Frederick Jackson, of the 1st Bn. the Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire Light Infantry, agreed at a Chelsea court-martial, recently, that while he was sergeants' mess caterer at the Tower of London, he adulterated beer with water.

He pleaded guilty to charges of adulterating half of the beer in his charge, performing his duties so negligently that a loss of £8 7s was caused, and absconding himself without leave.

Samples of the beer showed it was stated, that water had been added to a six-gallon cask.

Jackson pleaded that when he was posted to the Tower and separated from his wife and family he had to keep himself and his home going, and became involved in financial troubles. He had to borrow to buy necessities for his wife and child.

The court's decision will be made known.

THE EMPEROR'S CANDLESTICKS

Bundled in furs, William Powell walked the length of a railway coach in the Vienna station, entered a compartment and removed his cap and coat.

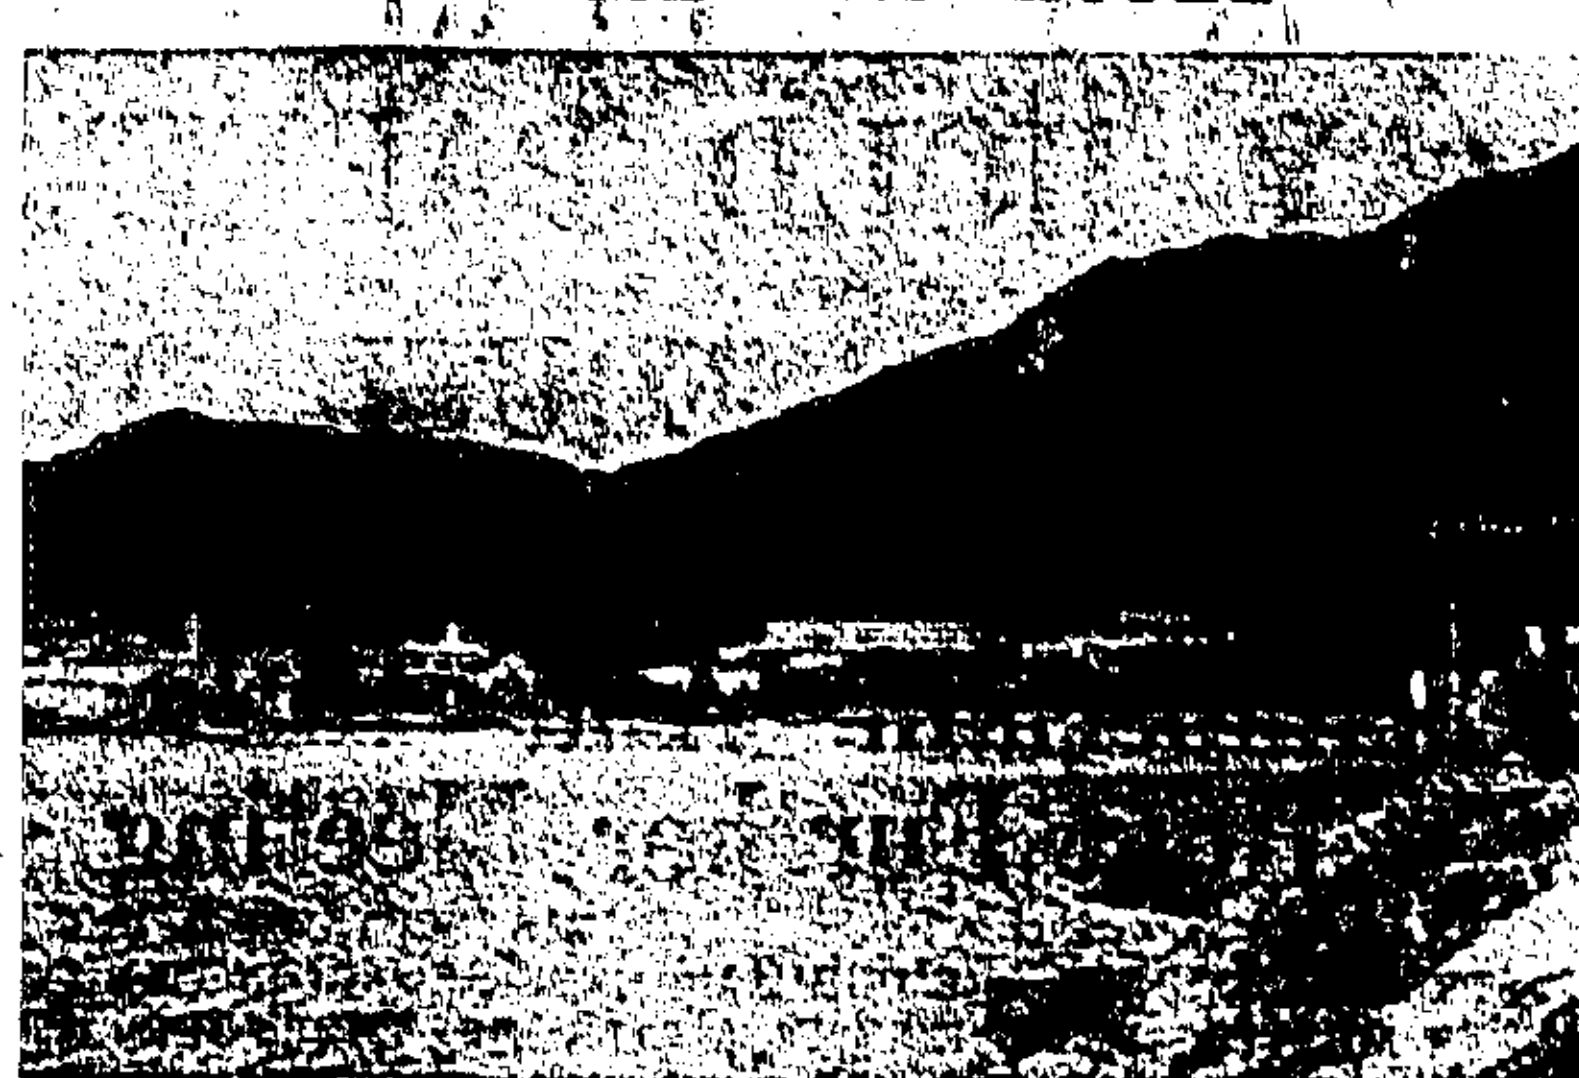

In another compartment, Luise Rainer gazed through the window to the railway station scene—but Powell and Miss Rainer did not meet.

But the two stars were together again in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Emperor's Candlesticks," which is showing at the King's Theatre.

"The Emperor's Candlesticks," produced by John Considine Jr., directed by George Fitzmaurice and adapted from Baroness Orczy's novel, is a story of international spy intrigue during the Czarist regime at the turn of the century.

Among the featured players in the exceptional cast supporting Powell and Miss Rainer are Robert Young, Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Morgan and Henry Stephenson. Also prominent in the cast are Bernadine Hayes, Donald Kirk, Douglas Dumbrille, Charles Waldron, Len Wulf, Barnett Parker, Frank Reicher.

REPULSE BAY HOTEL

Repulse Bay Hotel seen from South Bay.

SKY GIANT

A gripping drama of modern aviation and a timely glimpse behind the scenes of the training that today's fliers must undergo, are both presented in RKO Radio's "Sky Giant," which opens at the Alhambra Theatre today.

Richard Dix, co-starred with Joan Fontaine and Chester Morris in this up-to-the-minute offering, plays a noted pilot, transferred to a big aviation school under the strict discipline of its superintendent, Harry Carey.

Carey's son, Morris, enrolls in the school without his father's knowledge, and the conflict begins, with Dix in continual hot water trying to keep matters smoothed out between father and son.

ROSALIE

Nelson Eddy and Eleanor Powell are co-starred for the first time in the super-lavish musical, "Rosalie," which comes to the Majestic Theatre today.

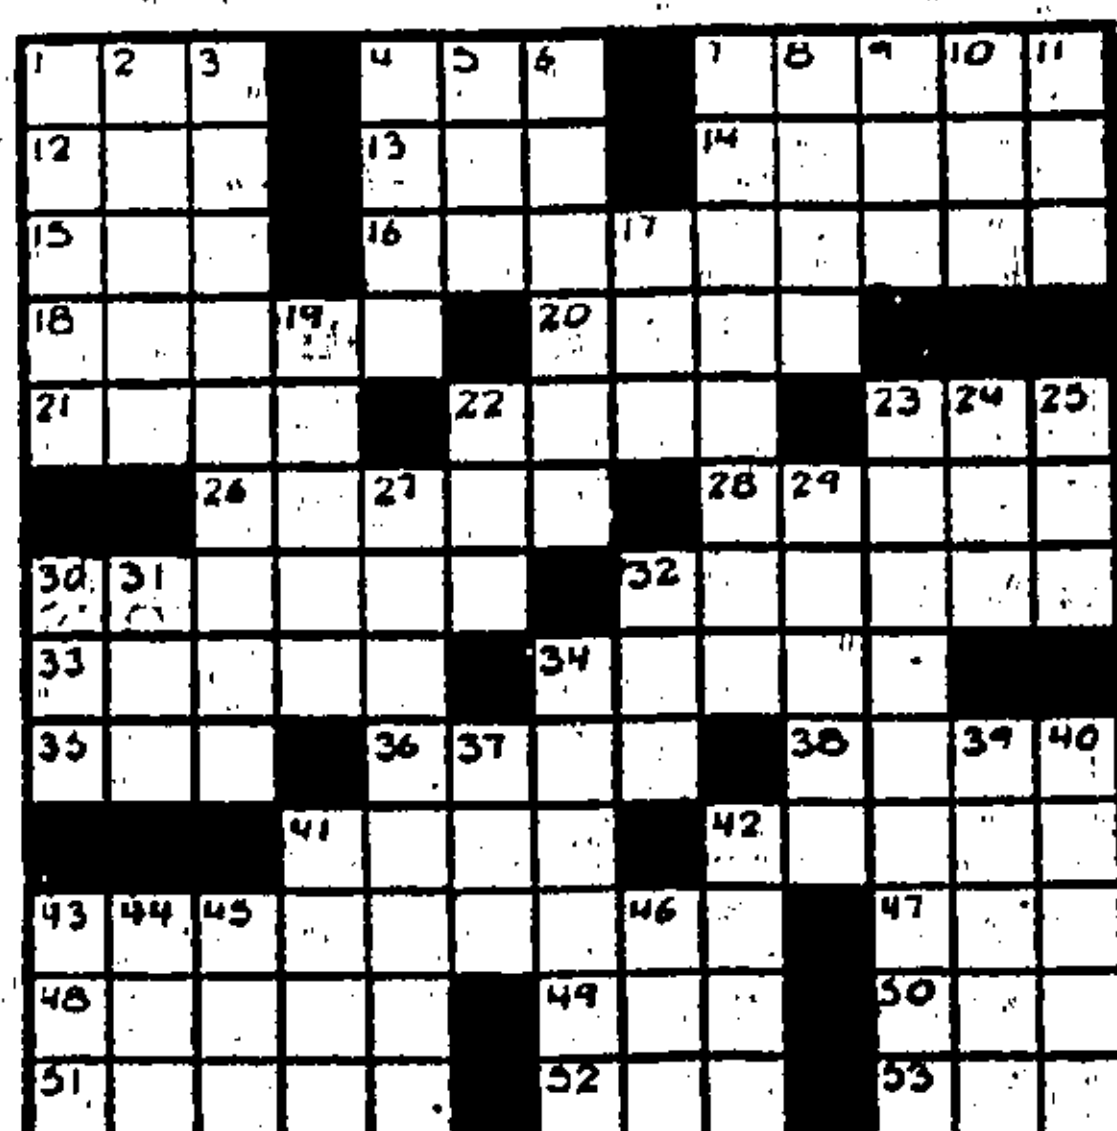

The musical also includes such favourites as Frank Morgan, Edna May Oliver, Ray Bolger, the new European sensation, Ilona Massey, Billy Gilbert and Reginald Owen in a story that concerns the love and adventures of a West Point cadet and a Princess of mythical Romania.

Frank Capra has completed "You Can't Take It With You," after 54 days shooting, and will now begin preparing the George Sand story in which he is to direct Marlene Dietrich.

SOLUTION ON MONDAY

JAMES DUNN IS STARRING INDEPENDENTLY

James Dunn is starring in a picture called Thunder Over China for an independent company grandly called Fine Arts.

Dunn is one of that band of actors who've never done anything but well, but go on struggling through little pictures or little companies for the break nobody knows why they can't get. A belated American filmgoer lately wrote feverishly to the press about the brilliant new star he'd discovered—James Dunn in Bad Girl.

Information isn't so old-fashioned as it sounds. Dunn's as good now as he was seven years ago in Bad Girl.

FIRST AMBITION

Jo Frances James fulfils first ambition in a most roundabout manner. Granddaughter of Jesse James, America's pet bandit, Jo Frances once had theatrical ambitions and joined a stock company. Like others who want to eat, she gave it up to work in a bank.

Then Darryl Zanuck got ready to star Tyrone Power in The Life of Jesse James. His good news-sense led him to engage Jo Frances to help prepare the script.

Now the bandit's grand-daughter has been given a part, quite important they say, in the picture. George Raft seems to have got his way at last. In spite of a semi-relapse in You and Me, he seems to have thrown off gangsterdom for good. He'll go deep-sea diving in Danger is My Business.

Paramount have bought him this autobiography of adventure by John D. Craig. Craig, it appears, was left a huge income from oil and strode the world in luxury until the wells went dry.

Then he took up deep-sea photography and went hunting lost treasure.

Chamberlain And Hitler To Hold Further Meeting

PARIS, SEPTEMBER 16. STRONG RUMOURS ARE CURRENT HERE REGARDING AN IMMINENT MEETING BETWEEN THE HEADS OF THE FOUR BIG EUROPEAN POWERS, NAMELY BRITAIN, FRANCE, GERMANY AND ITALY.

French political circles, however, describe the news as "premature." It is believed that the suggestion may have been made by Herr Hitler to Mr. Chamberlain when they met yesterday but was not accepted.

Paris opinion is, as before, that it is impossible not to include Soviet Russia at such a meeting.

It is learned from well-informed German circles at Berchtesgaden that the second meeting between Mr. Chamberlain and the German Chancellor will take place near Cologne at the end of the week.

While the French Parliament is not likely to be convoked at present, it is possible that the Foreign Affairs Commission of the Senate and the Chamber will be summoned during the week-end.

Mr. Daladier may go to London on Monday to meet the British Premier, but the final decision will not be made until after the Cabinet meeting in London—Reuter.

Berchtesgaden Meeting

Berchtesgaden, Sept. 16. Large crowds near the station gave the British Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, a hearty welcome as the train from Munich, where he had landed by plane from England, pulled into the station yesterday.

The crowds shouted "Hell" and threw their caps in the air.

Mr. Chamberlain, accompanied by Herr von Ribbentrop, the German Foreign Minister, drove to the Grand Hotel and after a short rest the Premier, accompanied by Herr Meisner, Chief of the Chancellor's Presidential staff, motored to Berghof, Herr Hitler's residence, where the Fuehrer himself welcomed his visitor as the car arrived.

A guard of honour presented arms as Herr Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain exchanged cordial handshakes.

Sir Neville Henderson, Herr von Ribbentrop, and Messrs. Wilson and Strang were onlookers.

The Fuehrer immediately invited the visitor to take tea in the big lobby of Berghof, where the party included the German Ambassador in London, Herr von Dirksen and the Secretary of State, Herr von Weizsaecker.

One of the largest crowds ever seen in the small town gathered to see the British diplomat and with shouts of "Hurrah" in the British style and much throwing of hats in the air they watched Mr. Chamberlain climb into the first of a procession of seven cars and return to the Hotel.

The strictest secrecy is being maintained about what happened while the diplomats conferred at Berghof, but there is a report that after tea Herr Hitler and Mr. Chamberlain had a talk together alone in Herr Hitler's office.

Mr. Chamberlain did not leave the house until 9 p.m. to return to his hotel.

Frank Exchange Of Views

An official statement issued later states: "The Fuehrer held conversations with the British Prime Minister today at Obersalzberg, in the course of which a comprehensive and frank exchange of views about the present situation took place."

"The Prime Minister is returning to England tomorrow in order to discuss matters with the British Cabinet. In a few days time further conversations will take place."

The conversations lasted for almost exactly two and a half hours.

CHAMBERLAIN RETURNING ON SATURDAY

It is understood that according to present plans Mr. Chamberlain will be back in Germany again tomorrow (Saturday).

Although the official communique spoke of "some days" as the period of the next meeting, actually the present intention is that the meeting shall take place before the end of the week, if all goes well.

Up to the early hours of this morning, telegrams from London were being delivered to Mr. Chamberlain by a motor cycle dispatch rider.

Mr. Chamberlain is returning to London in the same plane that brought him to Germany.

TALKS PROVE USEFUL

As far as can be gathered from circles close in touch with Herr Hitler, the talk yesterday proved useful to both sides. It is believed that Herr Hitler stated his views on the Czech question but did not by any means do all the talking.

It is understood that Mr. Chamberlain made most of the opportunity to put the British case fairly and squarely before the Fuehrer.

The talk, it is believed, could hardly have got as far as negotiations, but it is generally felt that it has cleared the air to some extent.

German circles suggest that the Fuehrer may have found in the British Premier the sort of straightforward man which he has always preferred to deal with to the more complicated type of diplomat.

The general mood here early this morning was one of guarded optimism—Reuter.

RUNCIMAN RETURNS TO LONDON

Prague, Sept. 16. Lord Runciman, who has spent several weeks in Czechoslovakia acting as unofficial mediator between the Czechs and the Sudetens, is returning to London today to consult Mr. Chamberlain.

Mr. F. T. A. Ashton-Gwatkin will accompany Lord Runciman—Reuter.

HUNGARIANS' CLAIMS

Budapest, Sept. 16. The Hungarian Treaty Revisionist League, which has 2,000,000 members, has telegraphed Mr. Chamberlain an appreciation of his wonderful effort to save peace in Europe, urging that the Hungarian minority in Czechoslovakia be granted the right of self-determination.

At the same time a proclamation has been issued asking for world sympathy with the Hungarian claims.

This proclamation must have been issued with the approval of the Government, and makes its appearance when all Hungarians are looking towards Berchtesgaden and are more than ever convinced that the realisation of Hungary's 20-year-old dreams of being re-united are coming true.—Reuter.

SUDETEN UNREST UNDER CONTROL

Prague, Sept. 16.

While official reports issued here indicate that there is considerable unrest in the Sudeten areas, nowhere does it appear to have assumed serious proportions and the Prague Government appears to be master of the situation.

Martial law has been extended to Reichenberg, Rumburg, Schluckenau, in addition to the areas where it was previously enforced.—Reuter.

SIR ROBERT AND LADY HO TUNG HONOURED

At that time the subject of the development of the Territories was discussed, and in fact the matter was discussed at an earlier date soon after you began your task of developing part of the land.

EXTENSIVE EXPERIMENTS

Your orchard is so well known that it is not necessary to explain anything about it in general, but when it is studied, it reveals extensive experiments of various kinds, which, if they had been followed up by the people generally, would have led to much greater development of the Territories than has yet been attained.

You not only experimented with plants of various kinds but have a garden beautifully laid out, so that it has become a joy to many.

You experimented with mulberry bushes and silk worms. Your silk and its manufacture were exhibited at Wembley Exhibition in England in 1924 and 1925. You also proceeded to develop animal husbandry.

Your experience in all these matters has been made freely available to us who have come after—it may be said "a long way after."

When the first shows in the Territories were held you kindly placed your premises at our disposal, and have always welcomed the Committee to meetings in your dwelling erected on the site.

THE FIRST SHOW

The first agricultural show was actually held in your premises, where you entertained those who were seeking to follow in your footsteps. You have generously helped us year by year in many ways. The shows would not have presented anything like such a good appearance had you not, especially Lady Ho Tung, and the late Lady Clara, assisted in the supervision of the exhibition. You provided flowers in pots, flags and other decorations, as well as many exhibits which have always been a feature of the shows, and have proved to be an education in themselves.

We are amateurs, but your exhibits have always been a centre of interest and admiration and enquiry from many visitors.

BEAUTIFUL CENTRE

Now through the generous gift of Mr. J. E. Joseph we have a beautiful centre where we can begin the education of local boys in agricultural affairs, and make experiments on the local soil, and with local seeds, which we hope may be improved by the introduction of new seeds from China and abroad.

As we have been meeting in our own premises, it occurred to us that we ought to show our gratitude for all your kindly and generous treatment of the Association, and of the Committee, who, year by year, have met in your premises for ten or a dozen times yearly, and you have been the generous host and hostess of the Committee.

We could not decide on a suitable present, but after much discussion decided to present a shield with a suitable inscription to express our appreciation in a small way, of your beneficence.

We had not anticipated such a large and distinguished gathering on this occasion, and had thought of offering the small gift at Tung Ying Hok Po, your farm at Sheung Shui.

SMALL TOKEN

Offering such a small present before such a distinguished gathering seems too small, but we are sure that you will appreciate the fact, that we wished to present our thanks in a tangible form, and, according to our ability, prepared this small token.

We hope that you may both enjoy the sight of this little shield, the gift of many of your grateful admirers, for a long time to come. I, for one, always felt that when Lady Ho Tung was at hand, our failure to do the right thing by those who honoured us with their presence, would be covered over by the kindly oversight of the many details, that go to make such occasions a success.

Unostentatiously this service was given, but never unnoticed by us. We shall hope to have your presence for many years to come, and also we are assured of your kindly interest in our endeavour to build up a more trained succession of young farmers for the future progress and prosperity of the people of the Territories.

We hardly dare to mention our hopes. This is the day of small things. We only began our classes yesterday, and there lies a long period of patient and persevering effort before the end we aim at is attained.

One hope is that successful students may be sent on for further instruction in more fully equipped institutions, who may return to be a blessing to their local compatriots, and so assist in the development of improved agriculture in the New Territories. (Applause).

MR. TANG WEI TONG

Mr. Tang Wei Tong, who spoke in Chinese, said:—

Ever since the time when this Association was founded 12 years ago by Sir Cecil Clementi, we have received the gracious hospitality of Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung, who have treated us as their guests and lent us their premises at Tung Ying Hok Po Farm as our quarters. We have met there all these years more than 10 times a year, and on every occasion they very kindly and generously provided refreshments and other forms of hospitality.

Now that we have received the generous provision of Joseph Hall by Mr. J. E. Joseph as our premises in a new Agricultural Association Building, it is no longer necessary to continue to borrow Tung Ying Hok Po.

12 YEARS OF WORK

Thinking back over the 12 years of our work, we have had the benefit of the advice and wisdom of Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung which we cannot record in detail.

From the time when the first meeting was held under the chairmanship of the Hon. Mr. J. A. Fraser at Tai Po to establish this association, Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung and the Hon. Mr. J. P. Braga, Lieutenant Colonel Dowbiggin, Messrs. McPherson, Wells, Mannings, J. J. White, J. Russell and many of the gentry of the New Territories have helped us. Mr. Braga first acted as its first Hon. Secretary, but alas at that time we had no centre for our activities.

Lady Ho Tung then most generously offered the loan of Tung Ying Hok Po, as our headquarters, and constantly attended the meetings. Also yearly at the shows, she herself attended and assisted in the direction of affairs.

EDUCATION OF PEOPLE

When some people were saying that ordinary farmers could not compete with the workmen at her farm, Lady Ho Tung arranged that the exhibits should not compete for prizes, but put them on exhibition solely for the education of the people, and to give a lead to the farmers. This was a further proof of your sympathy for the farmers.

Now that our building is completed and we are opening the institute for students, we still look to Sir Robert and Lady Ho Tung for advice and assistance, so that people of the New Territories may have instruction in farming, and that the future of agriculture in the New Territories may be bright. Finally, we wish you both health and strength, to continue for many years to assist this Association for the benefit of the New Territories. (Applause).

SIR ROBERT HO TUNG

Replying to Mr. Wells' speech, Sir Robert said:—

My wife and I are deeply touched by your kind expressions of appreciation and on her behalf as well as my own, I want to thank you all for honouring us today.

Being citizens of this Colony, my wife and I are naturally fond of it. Being fond of it we are naturally desirous of making it a fair abode. Blessed with a long line of sympathetic District Officers, it was less difficult, especially after the coming of the Kowloon Canton Railway in 1912, to push forward the development of the New Territories.

Though I am, I think, one of the first, if not the first Hong Kong resident to acquire property in the New Territories, yet Lady Ho Tung had wanted to develop these attractive tracts of land before I laid my eyes on them.

Even after the construction of the Railway, the line at first terminated only at Fanling, and a private ricksha had to be got ready before one could get to Sheungshui, unless of course one chose to walk.

TO GROW COTTON

Since those early days when there was scarcely a European house in the newly leased tracts of land, Lady Ho Tung has been experimenting with various forms of the cultivation of fruits, vegetables, flowers and farm stock. Some of you here will no doubt remember her efforts to grow cotton and tobacco in the New Territories.

RULES FOR NAZI WOMEN

TO BRING BACK GLAMOUR!

Now, this is a fine state of affairs for the German ladies—"No hopping, skipping or jumping." And take it for what it is worth!

The new order was issued by Frau Gertrud Scholtz-Klink, 35 years old, with a slender figure, grey eyes and blonde hair which she wears in braided plaits and holds the title of Fuehrerin of National Socialist Womanhood.

Her main undertaking in life at this point is to make the German Gretchen into a modern, healthy, athletic girl. However, she has succeeded so well that the young gents of Germany were murmuring that the young women had lost all romanticism.

Consequently, the new ruling which is supposed to bring back the glamour of the German females.

WOMEN IN THE AIR

MISS COCHRANE'S FEAT

When women start in aviation they certainly mean something and prove it.

Miss Jacqueline Cochrane demonstrated this when she won the $30,000 Bendix Trans-Continental Air Derby from Los Angeles to Cleveland, in the early part of this month.

This young lady covered 2,042 miles at an average speed of 249.74 miles per hour.

Miss Cochrane's plane, which has the number 13, was the same military pursuit plane in which Major Alexander de Seversky established a new record for an east to west Trans-Continental flight.

The Major's record from New York to Burbank, California, was 10 hours 3 minutes 3 seconds which beats the previous record of 11 hours 30 minutes.

JACOBAN ROOM DINNER

Manila Visitors Hosts To 21 Guests

The Honourable Alberto Barretto with Mrs. Barretto and Don Claudio Aldecoa were hosts on Thursday evening at a dinner for twenty-one guests in the Jacobean Room of the Hong Kong Hotel.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Chen, Mr. and Mrs. Li Moon-chun, Mr. and Mrs. Li Tsong, Mr. and Mrs. Chen Mo-hua, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Prata, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Lising, Mr. Philip Cock-chin, Mr. Octavio Barretto, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Raagas, Mr. Felipe Elizaga, Mrs. A. Trillo, Mr. and Mrs. Lo Hung-llen and Miss A. Trillo.

Closing a delightful dinner, one of the hosts, the Hon. Alberto Barretto addressed a few informal words of thanks to his many friends for their hospitality and courtesy extended to him. Mrs. Barretto and Don Claudio Aldecoa during their visit here the past two weeks.

These charming southern visitors will return to Manila today via the m.v. Victoria.

MR. J.J. EVANS

Veteran Of Book Business Here

SHANGHAI TRADE CONDITIONS

Veteran of the book business, Mr. Joseph J. Evans, who arrived in the Colony only yesterday by the P. and O. Chitral, has already "set up shop" at the Gloucester Hotel.

Pending the arrival of more supplies he will be ready to continue here the work of distributing literature of all kind which he has been carrying on for many years in different parts of China.

When visited by a representative of the "Daily Press" at his hotel yesterday afternoon, Mr. Evans was engrossed in unpacking and arranging the volumes which he brought with him from Shanghai and cheerfully remarked that "what we saw there was nothing compared to what we would see if we returned in a day or two."

A manufacturers and publishers' representative, Mr. Evans not so long ago ran a chain of book stores and is now specialising in wholesale. World-famous names amongst the publishers whom he has represented are Wm. Collins and Co. Ltd., George Allen and Unwin Ltd., Jonathan Cape Ltd., W. and R. Chambers, Chatto and Windus, Evans Brothers Ltd., Eyre and Scottswoods (Publishers) Ltd., Hodder and Stoughton Ltd., Michael Joseph Ltd., Methuen and Co. Ltd., Ivor Nicholson and Watson Ltd., C. Arthur Pearson Ltd., and Putnam and Co. Ltd.

Mr. Evans' opinion of trade conditions in Shanghai, which he left on September 13, is that though things are not as bad as many believe, stability is definitely lacking and it will be long before business returns to anything like normal.

WHEN WILL CHINA WIN?

AN INTERESTING REACTION of observers who return from China is the optimism with which they view the course of the struggle. They assert "The question is now not 'Can China win?' but 'When will China win?'"

The certainty of China's victory is based on a comparison of the relative weaknesses and strengths of the two nations at war. Japan's strength was amply publicized before the war. Her weaknesses are becoming more and more evident. After a year of war, she finds herself with an enormous debt; sagging gold reserve, a 20 per cent. loss of foreign trade. Obvious waste of war material has accelerated the depletion of her reserves of war materials; her people are on short rations, and the war fever at home has reached its period of decline.

Were success attending her at the front, these minutes might be borne more easily in the hope of being able later to recuperate with the aid of a large Chinese war indemnity and the spoils of conquest. At the front, however, all is far from well. Her military might has been bogged down. According to evidence from disinterested observers, the "conquests" of the Japanese army are limited to the main trunk lines in North China and isolated outposts in walled cities. The Imperial Japanese army is unable to send less than a divisional column marching across the countryside. Occupied territory in China appears to be as much as boots and guns can cover.

Such success at the front is all very well for a raiding expedition, but, as the "conquest of a Continental empire," it is a ludicrous tragedy.

The first aim of the Japanese invasion was to occupy territory, develop it economically, and use it as a strategic political and military base for further attacks.

Since the territorial occupation is ineffective, the economic plans of the Japanese and their puppets have come to naught.

The second aim of the invasion was to destroy the power of the Chinese Government and the Kuomintang party. Here also they have failed. The Chinese Central Government now leads a united nation and its armies are larger and stronger than at the beginning of the war. Its international credit is strong.

The main effect of resistance by the Chinese upon Japan's international position has been to reduce her to the status of a second-rate power. With more than half of her army bogged down in China

OFF TO THE WAR ZONES

Indian Medical Unit Feted

Members of the Indian Medical Mission who are on their way to the China Front, were entertained to tea by the local Indian community at the Gloucester Hotel yesterday when several hundred people attended.

The guests included the Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall and the Hon. Mr. T. N. Chau and in the course of the evening a number of speeches were made, including one by Dr. Atal, head of the Mission, who returned thanks for the hospitality extended.

CHAIRMAN'S WELCOME

Mr. H. Ruttonjee, head of the local Parsee Community, in welcoming the guests, said:—
Dr. Atal and members of the Indian Medical Commission to China:

It gives me very great pleasure to welcome you to Hong Kong—this gateway to China—on behalf of the Indian community of this Colony.

It has been with considerable joy and pride that we have followed month after month the rapid growth throughout India of a sincere sympathy with China in her bitter sorrow and suffering, and in this well-equipped medical unit the National Congress and people of India have given to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and the whole Chinese people, who are united behind him in this struggle, a practical expression of that sympathy.

The Indian National Congress has already sent a message of sympathy to China, and monetary contributions collected from the people throughout the provinces of India.

The spokesman of India Dr. Rabindranath Tagore recently sent a message of sympathy and encouragement to the Chinese people, and the Indian community of this Colony has felt no small pride in the fact that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek himself broadcasted that message throughout China.

BITTEREST STRUGGLE

In you Dr. Atal this Indian Medical Commission has a leader experienced by service with the Government forces in Spain, and we are sure that you and the doctors associated with you will render valuable and much-needed aid to the suffering Chinese people to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the whole civilized world goes out in this, perhaps, the most bitter hour in the long history of their great race and country.

and her military supplies enormously depleted she is manifestly unable to honour in full her anti-Comintern pact commitments in the event of a major crisis in Europe.

Far Eastern observers maintain that Japan's objectives cannot be achieved with her present forces in China. Dare the militarists mobilize Japan's remaining reserves? How much more can Japanese people stand? If more pressure is applied to the people at home there is little doubt that the danger of a catastrophic outbreak is increased if the gamble fails.

The hotheads in Japan still fail to see the danger signals and are hell-bent on hammering their way to victory. Keener strategists are seeking a quick decision of the battle for Wuhan. At the same time they are making strenuous efforts at a compromise which in lieu of victory will enable them to withdraw; at the same time, hoping that in the midst of political confusion in China following their partial withdrawal they will be able to recuperate quicker than China can launch a fresh attack.

China can win. The question is when. For China's leaders know Japan's strength and her weaknesses. The present strategy of manoeuvre and guerrilla warfare is the answer to the localized superior equipment of the Japanese. A heavy bombardment will clear a heavy path way, but after the road has been opened, and the column passes, gate closes in the rear with the myriad of guerrillas and regular troops that have moved aside to allow the "conquerors" to pass on into the quicksands.

In a series of articles, the first of which will appear in the "Hong Kong Daily Press" tomorrow, Mr. Jack Chen will discuss the subject from an entirely impartial point of view and give the impressions gained as a result of an extended tour through the war areas and in the zones in which China's guerrilla forces are operating.

CHINESE PRESS COMMENT

Effects Of European War On Asia

It seems obvious that war in Europe is inevitable, and, come sooner or later. The question now is, what effect will the war bring to the Far East, especially so far as Sino-Japanese hostilities are concerned?

In case war should break out in Europe, comments the "Shun Pao," the aggressive countries are sure to maintain blockades at both ends of the Mediterranean sea to cut off England's and France's communications with Africa and the colonies east of the Suez Canal. Whether these blockades can be effectively maintained or not is another question.

Japanese will then play again her old trick of attacking Tientsin as when the last world war broke out and avail herself of the opportunity to begin military activity in the various British and French colonies in the Orient. The task of fighting the Japanese on land has to be imposed on the Chinese army. Hence, China and the various colonies must stand or fall together.

It is obvious also that, in order to realize her dream of dominating the Far East, Japan will try to combat the Russian military power in the Far East, at least to the west of Lake Baikal. Soviet Russia, however, is sure not to remain passive, and may offer the first blow to Japan. The chief arena of war then will shift from the Yangtze River basin to the sea-coasts or to the north of the Great Wall and Inner Mongolia.

China's war supplies will not be suspended because of the war in Europe as it would appear. England and France, standing on a common footing with us, will turn their supplies of war materials from a commercial nature to a political nature.

Although difficulties may arise on the question of transportation, there are many remedies. Foreign experts may be invited to expand the arsenal in the south-west, and the large stock of war materials preserved in the various colonies, for several years may be transported to China via the Burma-Yunnan route and the Indo-China-Yunnan route.

While Japan, who has depended for her supplies largely, (above 90 per cent.) from U.S.A., the British colonies, Netherlands East Indies and the North Eastern Provinces will be denied supplies from the first three sources and supplies from the fourth source will become unthinkable as the region will become the ideal arena for the Russian Far Eastern Army and the Outer Mongolian Army to fight the Japanese.

Furthermore, there is another great possibility for China to count on United States' joining in the battle on the side of England and France.

Therefore, if the war in Europe can be avoided so much the better, but, if the worst should come, we may rest assured that the effects it will bring to China will be in the latter's favour.

DEATH BLOW TO JAPAN

Supplementing the "Shun Pao's" remarks, the "Industrial and Commercial News" says:—

In case war should break out in Europe it will be in China's favour. The demarcation of the aggressive countries and the anti-aggressive countries will then be distinct.

Japan's position in the Far East will be all the more isolated, Italian and the German experts now under her employment will be recalled to their mother-countries for active service. France alone will be sufficient to defeat Germany. Half of Britain's land sea and air forces may be dispatched to protect the Far East at Hong Kong, Singapore, etc. while the other half will hold in reserve for cooperation with France in defeating Germany and Italy.

Besides, the communications line between British India and Australia has been completed, and Canada would not tolerate expanding her power on the Pacific. Soviet Russia likewise will find that the opportunity has come for her to deal a death blow to the Japanese. The same with the United States, with Britain's clear attitude and her joining in the war, she will stand on Britain's side.

So long, therefore, China can keep her morale and struggle to the bitter end, she need not be over worried with the situation in Europe.

KEEPING MUTSAI

A fine of $100 was imposed on Fan Yuk-ching, residing at Wongneichung Road, when she pleaded guilty before Mr. Butters at Central Court yesterday to the charge of keeping an unregistered mutsai on September 14.

SIR ROBERT AND LADY HO TUNG

With the Agricultural Association, under the leadership of Mr. Wells, acting to be active. I hope that many of the things which were attempted and introduced into the New Territories will be revived and developed.

I am sure Lady Ho Tung will excuse me if I tell you about her silk worms. When the Colonial Institute informed her that the sample silk submitted was of the best commercial quality, she decided to purchase from the Government a large tract of land to start a silk farm at Sheungshui but unfortunately the Government could not provide her with sufficient land to make the scheme commercially practicable and the idea had to be abandoned.

WENT TO WEMBLEY

However, at the request of the Government and the Chinese Chamber of Commerce I went twice with Lady Ho Tung to Wembley, once, in 1924, and again in 1925, to exhibit to large crowds of interested spectators (including his late Majesty King George and Queen Mary and the then Secretary of State for the Colonies) the whole process of the manufacture of silk goods from the raw materials produced by the silk worms to the dainty silk stockings woven by a staff of Chinese women experts.

But before Lady Ho Tung was able to make our Farm suitable for the various experiments which she wanted to carry out, she had to devote much time and energy to the task of irrigating the marshy tracts of land. She did much not only to irrigate her own Farm but Kam Tsin village as well. Within recent years Lady Clara had been giving Lady Ho Tung a helping hand and took a great interest in her annual exhibitions.

SOURCE OF SUPPLY

Mr. Wells has also referred to the Report of the Committee on the Economic Resources of the New Territories of which I was the Chairman. Several of the recommendations there, if carried out when the Report was issued close on 20 years ago, might now make the New Territories an important source of supply of agricultural and farm products for this Colony. In this connection I must refer to the name of another keen pioneer, namely, Mr. J. P. Braga whose unquenchable zeal for the Peninsula is well known to us.

It was he together with Mr. Wells who first urged the yearly exhibition of the products of the New Territories. Whenever I think of Lady Ho Tung's work in these leased areas, I am reminded of the help I received from Mr. Braga in any effort of ours to promote the welfare of Kowloon and the outlying districts.

Finally, I want to say that we did not expect to receive such a fine testimonial from the Association for what we have been privileged to do in the New Territories. We value this shield not only because of its significance but also because of the goodwill which has marked its presentation to us.

I know how much the New Territories mean to Lady Ho Tung and for this reason I know how much this friendly token of yours means to her. On her behalf I thank you one and all. (Applause.)

FAR EAST FLYING TRAINING SCHOOL
The Mechanical And Engineering Side

(By "Daily Press" Staff Reporter)

Machines of the Far East Flying Training School.

A great deal has been written and discussed by people all over the world regarding the small, efficient and inexpensive airplane. A plane you can afford to own and operate and your next-door neighbour as well. Mr. Henry Ford, in the United States, is a firm believer that this will come to pass, and has manufactured such a plane.

However, the peoples of the world are not quite ready for this new development in transportation; the first reason being that the cost of maintaining and owning a plane is still a bit high for the medium income, and secondly, the males and females on a whole are still too ignorant and backward in their aviation education.

When you visit Kai Tak, take a good look at those large pieces of metal and the mechanical equipment for the functioning of a plane. They are huge, safe, comfortable and luxurious ships of air travel. Then think to yourself, why cannot these be made on a smaller plane? They can and will.

When you see these ships your natural curiosity will move you to ask questions and gather information as to how these airplanes run. Today, all over the world there are flying schools which teach you how planes are driven through the air, and what makes them hold together.

No better school for this instruction can be found than your own Far East Training School at Kai Tak. The mechanical instruction and the flying work is AI and accredited to any country in the world.

DOZEN TYPES

In the construction and mechanical side of the School, the students have experience on no fewer than a dozen different types of British manufactured aircraft. Aero-engines of both air-cooled and water-cooled types, stripping, checking, assembling and timing work is carried out by the engineer students.

They are instructed in the smallest details of aircraft engine instruction and functioning, and after two years of this work, they certainly know their airships and what makes the propellers go round.

The flying angle commences with your first joy ride into the air and takes you through instruction on every manoeuvre required in flying a plane, and even into the "fancy business" of stunting, as well as the necessary art when you find yourself in difficulties in the air with your plane.

The course at the Far East Flying Training School has left nothing out of their clasp and after years of experience their instructions can explain, patiently and thoroughly to the dumbest of you humans. Anyone can learn to fly if they wish to and they certainly can teach you at this School.

ENGINEERING CHIEF

A bit late to introduce you to the Big Chief of the Engineering Division at the Far East Flying Training School but he is a very important gentleman in the set-up and know you will be interested in his record. Meet Mr. W. M. McCombe, he nearly scares you to death on the first how-do-you-do, but he is very nice and they say extremely "savy."

A gentleman from Scotland, married and with a youngster in the family he finds life in Hong Kong very agreeable as well as his work at the Flying School. After eight months in the Colony Mr. McCombe awaits with impatience the arrival of said family, then all will be perfect.

Flying and ground work in Scotland and other countries are to his credit and at one time he was affiliated with the Renfrew Flying Club. Not only can this gentleman tell you exactly what each nut and bolt and piece of wire uses are but can do a mean job of piloting a plane.

When you take a ride out to Kai Tak march up and say hello to Mr. McCombe, let him scare you to death for he can certainly give you the low down on the planes out there.

DISHONoured CHEQUES
Claim Against European

Mrs. Ida Bercovitch appeared as complainant before Mr. E. H. Williams, Acting Puisne Judge, at the Supreme Court yesterday in a claim for $900 arising out of three dishonoured cheques against Henry Michael trading as Henry and Company.

Mr. Peter H. Sin appeared for Mrs. Bercovitch and defendant was represented by Mr. M. A. da Silva.

Mr. Sin stated that there were three cheques drawn by the defendant, each for $300. When they were presented at the Netherlands Handels Maatschappij, the cheques were dishonoured. Notice of this had been duly given to the defendant. Mr. Sin submitted that if this notice were proved, his client was entitled to judgment.

Mr. da Silva said that at one time the defence had raised the question that the cheques had been made out in May but had not been presented until August. He was now instructed not to go any further into this point but to consent to judgment.

JUDGMENT ONLY FOR AMOUNT SIGNED
Supreme Court Statement

At the weekly "call-over" list of cases in the Summary Court yesterday morning, the Acting Puisne Judge, Mr. E. H. Williams made an important statement with regard to money-lending debts.

He said:—
In future, in any of these money-lending cases which come before me, I shall enquire into the cases and if I find that the promissory note has been signed for double the amount, I will enquire into it and shall only give judgment for the amount borrowed.

I would also like to say that my learned brother Lindell agrees with me in the suggestion and he will also carry on the practice of giving judgment for the actual amount lent.

made no order for a stay of execution, remarking that he was satisfied that defendant had been responsible for the delay and should have consented to judgment long ago.

Chinese Leader Honoured At Singapore

Certificate Of Honour Presented

The presentation of the Certificate of Honour to Mr. Aw Boon Far, the noted Chinese philanthropist, at his Singapore residence on September 9 was attended by leading members of the European and Chinese communities. The Governor of the Straits Settlements, Sir Shenton Thomas, who made a short speech before decorating Mr. Aw, said:—

"Mr. Aw Boon Far has been well-known for many years not only in this Colony but in a much wider sphere for his deep interest in and support of every good cause."

"Indeed, it may well be said of him that no one, who was able to convince Mr. Aw that he was pleading a cause that would relieve suffering and distress or advance education and well-being, has ever pleaded in vain."

"His interests have been wide but no wider than the sympathy and kindness he feels for his fellow men. He has however shown that educational and medical causes are nearest to his heart."

GENEROUS DONATIONS

"He has given generously to St. Andrew's Hospital Singapore, and to other hospitals and he and his brother built at their expenses the Chinese Maternity Hospital at Seremban. He has subscribed to schools in each of the three Settlements."

"He has helped the unemployed. He has done much for children through the Po Leung Kuk and the Child Welfare Society. He has assisted the organisation of healthy sport and he and his brother have recently built the Home for the Aged which is run by the Little Sisters of the Poor."

"Mr. Aw will not wish me to give a full attempt of the many generous gifts he has made. It will be enough to say that he has realized that great wealth brings obligations and that he has carried out to the full those obligations."

Supporting Mr. Aw at the ceremony were Mr. Ng Sen Choy, C. H., and Mr. Lum Moon Thing, C. H.

Among those present were Dr. Lim Boon Keng, O. B. E., Mr. Wee Swee Teow, O. B. E., Mr. Ong Boon Tat, Mr. Ong Peng Hock, Dr. Fu Chai Khoo, Mr. Jee Ah Chian, and Mr. Lee Kim Pui.

Mr. Aw Boon-haw fettered.

TWO CONCLUSIONS

Prague, Sept. 16. Two chief conclusions are drawn in Czech circles from the fact that Mr. Neville Chamberlain, the British Prime Minister, is returning to London and that Lord Runciman has been summoned for a consultation. Firstly, there was no "heating about the bush" at Berchtesgaden yesterday. Secondly, the proposals by the Fuehrer are of a nature entitling them to consideration.

While the assumption that Lord Runciman will be used as an intermediary with the Czech Government is taken here to indicate that diplomatic methods will prevail, it is pointed out that the solution need not be any less drastic because methods of persuasion will be used.—Reuter.

HENLEIN "WANTED"

Berlin, Sept. 16. The reported decision of the Czechoslovak Government to take steps against Konrad Henlein is given great prominence in this morning's papers.

The "Lokal Anzeiger" says that Herr Henlein can feel himself honoured to be sought by Czech gendarmes.—Reuter.

IS JAPAN MAKING MORE EMPTY PROMISES?

States Willingness To Stand By Pact Partners

Shanghai, September 16. A Japanese Embassy spokesman reiterated the declaration, made in Tokyo, that in the event of a European war Japan is prepared to support Germany and Italy even to the extent of going to war in the spirit of the Anti-Comintern Pact.

This statement has raised considerable speculation in foreign circles in Shanghai. Is the statement mere words which Japan does not intend to honour by force, it is asked, or does it really mean that Japan is ready at this moment, while she is still involved in war with China, to embark on a war with Soviet Russia and Soviet Russia's probable allies, namely Great Britain and France?

Japan is not prone to making empty threats. It is generally pointed out, therefore, well-informed opinion is inclined to believe that Japan might involve herself in such a war, incredible as it may seem.

Diplomatic circles point out that were this the case there is no doubt that serious temporary damage could be done to Anglo-French interests in China but in the long run Japan will pay very dearly.

SEVERE STRAIN

Apart from the possible severe military strain against Russia the economic effect would be terrific since all Japanese ships outside Japanese and Chinese waters would be seized and her imports from and exports to areas south and west of Hong Kong would be entirely stopped.

One diplomat declared that the "Japanese decision to fight Britain and France would be a voluntary boycott against herself since thirty per cent of Japan's exports go to the British Empire." More over there is another possibility that would have to be faced, that of America being involved.

America's policy of isolation as far as Europe is concerned appears to be irrevocable but this appears to be more elastic as regards affairs affecting her interests in the Pacific.

INTERESTS INTER-LOCKED

It is further pointed out that Anglo-French interests are so interlocked with American interests in China that any war-like action against Britain and France would probably affect America and it is not improbable that America, although not necessarily adopting war-like measures, would at least amend the Neutrality Act in order to prevent trade dealings of any kind with Japan.

SUICIDAL POLICY

Surely, it is declared, no responsible Japanese statesman will willingly commit the country to "such a suicidal policy."

It is suggested in certain quarters that Japan may be gambling that there will be no war in Europe and so made her willingness to fight declaration, relying that it would never need implementing, and hoping to receive in return more positive support in the future from her Anti-Comintern partners, Germany and Italy, in her campaign in the Far East.—Reuter.

Cabinet To Meet

PREMIER MAY HAVE IMPORTANT PROPOSAL

London, Sept. 16. A meeting of the Cabinet has been arranged for this afternoon to enable Mr. Neville Chamberlain to report on his Berchtesgaden conversations and to consult his colleagues.

It is learned also that Parliament will reassemble to hear a report from the Prime Minister.—Reuter.

IMPORTANT PROPOSAL

London, Sept. 16. The news that the Prime Minister is returning today was received with surprise in London, but it is felt that it can only mean that he is returning because he has an extremely important proposal to put before the Cabinet.

The nature of the proposal is unknown. Therefore, any forecast of what it may be is quite unauthorised and purely speculative.—Reuter.

DELAY SPELLS DANGER

Berlin, Sept. 16. Mr. Chamberlain's departure for London and the decision to postpone the discussions with Herr Hitler are interpreted here in political quarters as proof that he has realised the seriousness of the situation and that every minute of delay spells the utmost danger.

"When two men such as Chamberlain and Hitler discuss matters for hours, they certainly will have got down to brass tacks," said a spokesman yesterday.—Reuter.

RAIL DE LA WARR

Geneva, Sept. 16. It is regarded as practically certain that Lord de la Warr, who is representing Lord Halifax, British Foreign Secretary, at the League of Nations meeting here, will leave Geneva today by air to attend the Cabinet meeting in London.—Reuter.

KING CONFERS WITH FOUR MINISTERS

London, Sept. 16. Since his return from Balmoral Castle the King has given an audience to the four leading British Ministers. They are Sir John Simon, Lord Halifax, Sir Thomas Inskip and Sir Samuel Hoare.—Reuter.

NEW ZEALAND'S VIEW

Wellington, Sept. 16. "Wherever Britain is, we must be!" Thus the New Zealand Premier, Mr. M. J. Savage, defined the Dominion's attitude towards the European crisis.—Reuter.

Reel Club Meeting

SUCCESSFUL YEAR REPORTED

That the Hong Kong Reel Club enjoyed a very successful season, both in financial and other respects, was mentioned by its president, Mr. W. L. Alexander yesterday at the annual meeting held at Helena May Institute.

Following the adoption of the minutes, Mr. Alexander said that the season under review very successful indeed.

Regarding the activities of the Club, the chairman said that the children's class proved to be a success. The class only originated last year and already the results, in the form of a dance at a tea party, had proved a great attraction to the children themselves and were enjoyed by those who attended the function.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The following are officers elected for the ensuing year:—

Patron: Chieftain of St. Andrew's Society; President: Mr. W. L. Alexander; Vice Presidents: Mrs. M. S. McGuffog, Mr. D. L. Prophet; Hon. Secretary: Mrs. N. K. Littlejohn; Hon. Treasurer: Mr. McKeller.

Committee: Mrs. I. Lang, Miss G. Swan, Miss S. Baskett, Mr. W. R. Forsyth, Mr. A. S. Farquhar, Mr. J. F. Scott, and Mrs. Selby.

CHINA'S NEED FOR MEDICAL AID AT FRONT

Indian Mission Entertained

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce were hosts yesterday at the Kam Loong Restaurant when a Chinese,iffin was given in honour of the Indian Medical Unit to China, comprised of Drs. M. M. Atal (leader), D. Mukherjee, M. B. Chokler, D. N. Kotak, and N. Basu.

Afteriffin, Mr. Li Shing-kui, Chairman of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, said:—

"We feel it a great honour today to have at this reception the presence of the esteemed members of the Indian Medical Mission to China and our Indian friends to whom we extend our heartfelt welcome."

It is indeed very kind of you to come to China from India to render medical services to our wounded people, and to relieve their pains and sufferings. Such an act of benevolence surely deserves everyone's respect and admiration.

It may be pointed out that almost every province in China has since the outbreak of hostilities in July last, been visited by Japanese aeroplanes and our people have been bombed and machine-gunned practically every day.

The units already doing relief work are, we are aware, quite insufficient and medical equipments and requirements are also very deficient.

It seems to us, therefore, that your coming to our assistance at this opportune time is like the relieving showers in a great drought. This is why the people of our country are eagerly looking forward for your speedy arrival day and night.

We all know that it takes more than two weeks for you to come from India and that on the voyage you have experienced many inconveniences but you have borne these courageously and light-heartedly, being only too anxious to achieve your aim of relieving our wounded people.

NOT EASY TASK

Besides, when you set into the relief areas in the near future, you will find that the task will not be an "easy one," but you have chosen to undertake this humanitarian work readily and heartily. You have done so because you belong to a people of great benevolence.

We are extremely pleased to know that our wounded people will have your kind and skilful services and at the same time we are very grateful to you for your sympathetic feeling towards our people as shown by your coming from afar to help us.

On behalf of the hosts of this reception who represent the Chinese community of this Colony I extend to you our heartiest welcome. May you have good luck, good health and be protected from

CHINESE PRESS COMMENTS

New Anti-Japanese Association

The Second Representative Assembly of the Overseas Chinese Anti-Japanese General Association has been inaugurated. As the ship in which the representative from Singapore has not arrived, the Assembly has been postponed to September 22. Generalissimo Chiang has wired General Wu Tuchen to speak for him at the opening ceremony.

Madame Sung Ching-ling is now in Canton to participate in the Second Representative Assembly of the Overseas Chinese Anti-Japanese Association.—"Ta Kung Pao."

SCHOOL DEMOLISHED

On September 9, Japanese planes demolished the premises of the Hainan Normal School. The principal Mr. Pui Hsueh-shu has reported to the Department of Education.—"Ta Kung Pao."

THEFT FROM DISPENSARY

Chan Kim, a salesman, and Wong Nimg, an office boy, both formerly employed by the China Dispensary, No. 82, Queen's Road Central, were each given two months' hard labour by Mr. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday.

Chan was charged with the theft of a large quantity of medicine to the total value of over $1,600.

Wong was alleged to have aided and abetted. Chan Kim pleaded guilty to the theft of only a small quantity of the medicine. He added that the dispensary had dismissed many employees who were suspected of theft, and that the lost property might have been stolen by one of the dismissed servants.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan, who appeared for the prosecution, accepted the plea. Wong pleaded not guilty to the charge.

NEW TERM AT LINGNAN

The autumn-winter semester at Lingnan University, Canton, will commence on September 23.

The Commencement Exercises, not held last June as a result of the heavy bombing of Canton, will open the new semester.

Dr. Chung Wing-kwong, for many years President of Lingnan University, will in a special ceremony introduce the new President of the University, Dr. Lei Ying-lam. Dr. Lei was, a few years ago, vice-president of Lingnan University.

Both the Lingnan Middle School and a Lingnan Branch Primary School are open for this term at Castle Peak.

MILITARY TRAINING FOR TWENTY THOUSAND Kwangtung Students To Be Future Leaders

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Canton, September 16. About 20,000 students in middle schools and universities in Kwangtung will be fully trained for the army after three months, as military training for them will begin before October 10.

Military instructors from Hankow have arrived here for this purpose, and a certain sum is appropriated for the maintenance of students during the period of training. The term is two months for middle schools students and three months for university undergraduates.

Girl students are also required to undergo training, though they may serve as Red Cross nurses and other work behind the lines.

Most students here have had previous preliminary training such as drilling, organization, musketry courses etc., and now they will receive the "finishing touches."

The training will be divided into seven districts, scattered in different parts of the province.

Military authorities are speeding up preparation work to give the training to students, as other provinces provided such training during the summer holidays so as not to hamper routine school work. It is likely that class work will give way to military training which is deemed more important.

After the brief but intensive work, the students may be qualified to be platoon and company commanders at the front.

POPULAR SUPPORT IS SOUGHT

Hankow, Sept. 16. Interviewed by press representatives, General Lo Tso-ying, newly appointed Garrison Commander for the Wuhan Area, declared he will seek the greatest possible support for the military in the defence of the triple cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang.

General Lo stated that, whilst the defence of a city depended, to a great extent, on a strong army and modern weapons, the importance of effective co-operation between the military and the people cannot be too much emphasized. He believed the success of the defence of Wuhan will be determined by the measure of popular support he will be able to command.—Central News.

INVADING ARMY MAKES LITTLE PROGRESS

Chinese Defenders Putting Up Gallant Fight

Hagshwan, Sept. 16. Making little progress in their drive from Kueishan on Hwangshwan (Kwangchow) the Japanese invaders are now checked in the vicinity of Chungtatten, a small village to the north of their goal.

Entrenched in their strongly fortified positions at Hwangtschang, the defenders offered stubborn resistance to the Japanese forces, who continuously bombarded the Chinese line with heavy artillery and mechanized weapons yesterday.

More than 1,500 Japanese are estimated to have been thrown into the assault.

From their commanding height the Chinese forces yesterday exacted a heavy toll from the Japanese who stormed the defence line against great odds. Greatly depleted of their men, the Japanese are rushing reinforcements from the rear.—Central News.

LAND SPEED RECORD

JOHN COBB'S FEAT

Bonneville Salt Flats, (Utah), Sept. 16.

John Cobb, the British racing motorist, yesterday broke the world's land speed record recently set up by Capt. George Eyston.

Driving his 2,500-H. P. Napier, Cobb averaged 350.20 miles an hour for the measured mile in a time of 10.28 seconds.

Cobb later averaged 353.29 miles an hour in 10.29 seconds for the northward run, and 347.18 miles an hour in 10.47 seconds for the southward run.

For the measured kilometre, his average times were 350.07 m.p.h. in 6.39 second for the northward run, and 352.82 m.p.h. in 6.34 seconds for the southward run.

Capt. Eyston is expected to try and regain the record today.—Reuter.

JOHNNY GOODMAN DEFEATED

Oakmont, Sept. 15.

Johnny Goodman, holder of the American Amateur golf title, was defeated today in the quarter-finals of the tournament.

Meeting R. D. Chapman, of Ohio, Goodman was beaten by 2 and 1.

Willie Turnesa, the former Walker Cup player, defeated Brinke by 5 and 4.

B. F. Abbott, of California, beat Joe Thompson, of Canada, at the 20th.

E. C. Kingsley, of Utah, beat M. Barber, of New York, by 5 and 3.

The winners enter the semi-finals.

In the third round, Goodman beat French 4 and 1.

Turnesa beat Johnny Fischer one up.—Reuter.

FOREST HILLS TENNIS

Forest Hills, Sept. 15.

Miss Margot Lomb, of Britain, conqueror of Miss Helen Jacobs, was eliminated from the women's singles in the American tennis championships today.

Meeting Miss Nancy Wynne, of Australia in the quarter-finals, Miss Lomb was beaten after three sets, the scores in favour of Miss Wynne being 6-4, 5-7, 6-1.

Miss Kay Stammers is now the sole surviving English player in the tournament.

QUARTER FINALS

In the quarter-finals of the men's championship, John Bromwich, of Australia, defeated Joe Hunt, of America, by 6-1, 9-11, 6-3, 6-4.

Gene Mako, of America, beat Gilbert Hunt, of America, by 7-5, 1-6, 8-6, 6-0.

In the women's championship, Miss Dorothy Bundy, of the United States, defeated Madame Mathieu, of France by 6-3, 3-6, 6-0.—Reuter.

MINING MAGNATE ENTERTAINED

Judge Haussermann
Guest Of Mr.
A.E. Prats

Judge John W. Haussermann, president and general manager of the Benguet Consolidated Mining Co. and the Balatoc Mining Co., the mining magnate of the Philippines, was guest on Wednesday at tea party given by Mr. A. E. Prats at the Peninsula Hotel.

Revealing the fact that the Balatoc Mining Co. equals, in percentage of production, the richest mine in the world, Judge Haussermann said that Balatoc has a daily output of 2,000 tons a day, while Benguet produces 1,200 tons a day.

Apart from being president of the two biggest mining companies mentioned the judge is also president of the People's Bank and Trust Co., one of the leading Manila banks and is also president of a bank in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Among the guests present were the Hon. Sir Robert Kotewall, the Hon. Mr. Alberto Barretto, former Secretary of Finance of the Philippines, the Hon. BRITON WOUNDED IN GRENADE OUTRAGE

Terrorism Breaks Loose In Shanghai

Terrorism broke loose again in the crowded down town part of the International Settlement at 2.15 p.m. when two grenades were thrown at the foot of Szechuen Road Bridge, wounding one Canadian slightly, six Chinese men and one woman, some of them seriously.

The wounded Briton is V. Lenoise, aged 42, of Calgary. He was taken to hospital in an ambulance but was able to walk out after his chin was dressed.

The grenades were of the Pine-apple type and exploded almost simultaneously, the loud reports sending a Chinese throng scurrying and bringing two red riot vans from the Shanghai Municipal Police. Traffic over the bridge was halted by Japanese naval pickets, Consular Police and Sikh constables.

Interviewed by Reuter, Lenoise said "I saw the grenades lying smoking, I ducked and caught it." No arrests have been made but the police believe the bombs were thrown in an effort to strike a Tatao Government man coming over the bridge from Hongkong.
